

Environmental Policy

The Nordmann UK Group ensures that its activities are carried out in conformance with relevant environmental legislation and relevant industry Codes of Practice, and is also committed to Responsible Care and Responsible Distribution.

We seek to minimise waste by promoting recycling, reducing energy consumption, and where possible, to work with suppliers and contractors who align with our Environmental standards.

The Nordmann UK Group is committed to the care of the environment and at its UK head office has implemented an Environmental Management System which satisfies the requirements of ISO 14001:2015.

An essential feature of the Management System is a commitment to improving environmental performance and prevention of pollution. This is achieved by setting environmental improvement objectives and targets which are monitored and reviewed. The objectives and targets are publicised throughout the organisation.

The management of the Nordmann UK Group is committed to providing the resources and facilities necessary for achieving objectives and fulfilling this standard, and the Managing Director retains overall responsibility and operational control of the Environmental Management System.

Achievement of this policy is reliant on the commitment of all Nordmann UK Group staff to uphold procedures, be proactive with improvement ideas, and to consider and manage risk and change.

This Policy and the obligation and responsibilities required by our Environmental Management Systems have been communicated to all employees, and this Policy is available to the public via our website.
